

Sponsored Place in Memory of Chris Walker

"This last 2 weeks I have been over in Chamonix skiing. It has simply been 'the bees knees' and is now my new favourite thing! For our first week we spent our mornings on a ski course run by Alison Culshaw. This is my second time on the course and I will no doubt be back again next year. The course is off-piste skiing and aimed at people who are just getting in to the off piste, to those who think they already can! It was superb with a very steep learning curve, conditions were good and a great time was had by all."

Chris Walker 24th December 2009

Chris Walker's life was tragically cut short when he was killed in an avalanche in Glen Coe in February 2010. Chris was a personal friend of mine, and also a regular client to BASS Chamonix. He had aspirations to become a Mountain Guide but he knew at some point he was going to have to get to grips with skiing if this was going to come true. It quickly became clear that learning to ski was not just about the guide's scheme – he had discovered a new sport, which he undertook with the upmost passion and enthusiasm. Each year BASS are to offer a free place on the Ski Performance Course of Mountaineers to ensure his passion for skiing is still felt on these courses and to assist individuals with similar aspirations to Chris.

The main criteria for selection are as follows:-

- a) You are a keen mountaineer/climber with some ski experience. Your main focus is skiing off-piste and ski touring.
- b) You intend to benefit as a result of increased knowledge and ski ability so that you can enhance your own personal ski experiences.
- c) This will be the first course like this you have undertaken – you have had little input into your ski technique before from a ski instructor.
